GENERAL OVERVIEW AND FAQs

WHAT IS INSTITUTE?

Institute for Organization Management (Institute) is the premier continuing education experience for association professionals. Since 1921, the Institute program has educated and empowered association executives with the knowledge and skills they need to be leaders in their organizations and industries.

The Institute curriculum is comprised of four week-long sessions. Each session is five days and is offered at five locations across the country annually. With courses on topics such as advocacy, media training, membership, finance, legal issues, human resources, and much more, Institute ultimately educates participants on all facets of running an association. WHAT IS THE BENEFIT OF ATTENDING INSTITUTE?

Association professionals who attend Institute receive an increased capacity to better lead their associations and influence their industries. After participating in four Institute sessions, attendees earn the IOM recognition, which signifies 96 hours of nonprofit management training.

Institute's curriculum is directly tied to the body of knowledge for the CAE (Certified Association Executive) exam. Furthermore, Institute is an approved CAE provider, which means that all courses can be applied to the credit hours needed to sit for the exam. Association professionals who graduate from the program receive 96 credit hours toward the CAE certification.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO GRADUATE FROM THE INSTITUTE PROGRAM?

Typically, participants attend Institute once a year for four years. However, association professionals looking to fast-track their growth may attend multiple sites in a year. It's up to the participants to decide what pace is best for them and their organizations. For a general schedule of the week, click here. To view upcoming Institute sessions, click here.

WHO ATTENDS INSTITUTE?

Association, chamber of commerce, and other nonprofit professionals all attend Institute. Class members represent a mix of nonprofit professionals in an effort to enhance networking and learning opportunities.

WHO TEACHES AT INSTITUTE?

Institute faculty are comprised of industry experts, leading practitioners in the association and chamber industries, consultants, and university professors. Click here to view a listing of this year's Institute faculty.

REASONS TO ATTEND

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

You will benefit from attending Institute in the following ways:

- You will receive instruction from and engage in discussion with leading industry experts who understand how to help you be successful in your career.
- You will develop a network of peers throughout the country you can turn to for advice and guidance in your pursuit for excellence.
- You will earn 96 credit hours toward your CAE.
- You will become a more valuable employee as a result of the knowledge and skill set gained.
- You will graduate with the IOM recognition, demonstrating your commitment to and understanding of how to lead a nonprofit.

“As a 501(c)3 employee, Institute provides me an education on proper organizational management and operations procedures.” - Erika Lyn Flaherty, Executive Assistant, Wisconsin Historical Foundation

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOUR BOSS?

Your boss will benefit from sending staff to Institute in the following ways:

- Staff members will learn best practices in the nonprofit community to help increase membership, generate non-dues revenue, cut expenses, create more value for members, and improve existing programs.
- Staff members will gain a greater knowledge of governance and finances, thus helping to ensure the organization is legally protected.
- Staff members will be mentored by industry experts.
- Staff members can earn 96 credit hours toward their CAE.

“The information I received in the financial courses last year allowed me to redesign an existing program which brought in the same amount of revenue, but we were able to reduce our UBIT (unrelated business income tax) significantly. We saved enough to more than cover the cost of attending Institute all four years. Now that's what I call ROI!” - Michelle Donohue, IOM, CAE, Accounting and Operations Manager, California Hotel and Lodging Association

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOUR BOARD?

Board members will benefit from sending staff to Institute in the following ways:

- Nonprofit staff will gain a better understanding of governance and finances, thus helping to ensure the organization is legally protected.
- Nonprofit staff will learn about non-dues revenue programs that will aid in increasing the organization's revenue.
- Nonprofit staff will learn how to increase membership recruitment and retention.
- Nonprofit staff will learn how to better lead and manage their teams.
- Nonprofit staff will learn how to effectively advocate for policies on city, state, and federal levels on behalf of the organization's members.

“Having employees who can look at issues with a 360 degree perspective is both beneficial to your board and critical to the success of your organization. IOM allows for exactly that type of growth and learning in a way that provides immediate impact.” - Tracey Halliday, IOM, Vice President, Communications, American Beverage Association (DC)

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOUR MEMBERS?

Your members will benefit from staff attending Institute in the following ways:

- Staff will be kept abreast of industry trends and how to effectively translate those trends into success for the members.
- Staff will learn how to effectively advocate for policies on city, state, and federal levels on behalf of the organization's members.
- Staff will gain a better understanding of how to increase the return on investment members receive from paying dues.
- Staff will learn how to more effectively develop value-based meetings.
- Staff will learn of programs that have benefited members of other organizations throughout the country and will be able to adopt those practices to meet the organization's needs.

“Attending Institute each summer always meant that I came home energized and with a list of new concepts and new ways of thinking. I was able to “borrow” some great ideas from my classmates that I was then able to build into my programming to make it a richer experience for our membership.” - Teresa L. Eyet, IOM, Senior Director, Conference Programming and Education Development, American Health Care Association (DC)
