Author, speaker, veteran, and in-demand international leadership expert, Tracey C. Jones is the President of Tremendous Leadership. She is passionate about lifelong learning and her career spans top positions in four major industries from the military to high tech to defense contracting and publishing. She is a graduate of the Air Force Academy, a decorated veteran, and earned an MBA in Global Management.

Tracey believes you'll be the same person five years from now except for two things: the people you meet and the books you read. She is the author of eight books which teach character and proactive life skills to learners of all ages. She released Beyond Tremendous: Raising the Bar on Life in 2015 which helps the reader move beyond the ordinary. Her latest book, A Message to Millennials, was released in 2017 and encourages the next generation of leaders. She is in her dissertation phase for her PhD in Leadership through Lancaster Bible College, where she is also a trustee. Ms. Jones also serves on the board of the Kosovo Leadership Academy and travels overseas routinely to teach leadership skills to our future leaders in other countries. Ms. Jones also conducts book clubs in three State Correctional Institutions in PA. She has personally witnessed the transformation and renewal of hearts and minds in the darkest of places.

Tracey's company has donated over $1.6M to local homeless shelters, recovery outreach and mission groups, disaster recovery organizations, and scholarships to local colleges. Tracey enjoys the outdoors, biking, traveling, spending time with her pets, and of course...reading!!!
