David Lieberman is an Associate at Webster, Chamberlain & Bean, where he concentrates on numerous aspects of non-profit law, including anti-trust, tax, employment matters, and corporate governance.

Mr. Lieberman also assists clients in legislative efforts in front of the U.S. Congress and Executive agencies, ranging from veterans' affairs issues to healthcare and bankruptcy matters.

Before starting at Webster, Chamberlain & Bean, Mr. Lieberman was Counsel to Senator Susan M. Collins (R-ME), and Senior Legislative Counsel to Congressman Michael C. Burgess (R-TX) where he focused on labor, transportation, banking, and telecommunications policy. Mr. Lieberman was also a law clerk on the United States Senate Committee on the Judiciary under Chairman Chuck Grassley (R-IA).
